

MY

INHERITANCE

SAMANTHA LIVERMORE

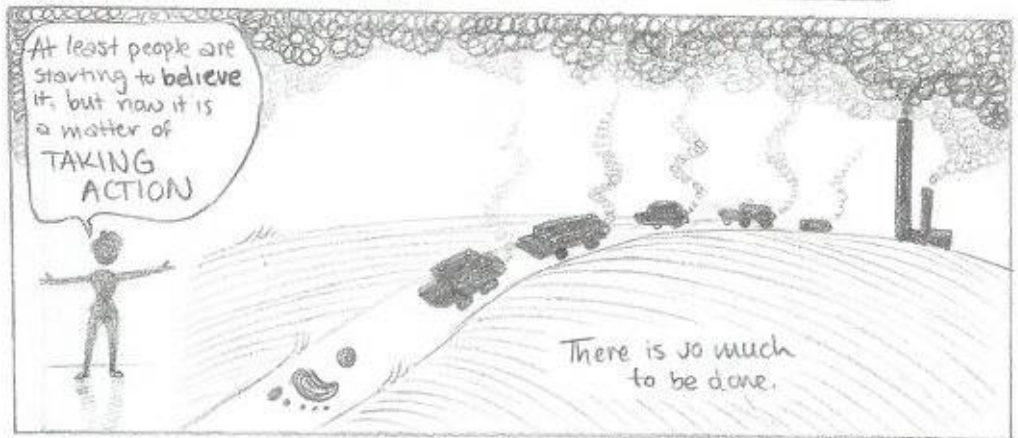

2015

#7

When I was a kid, I knew all about Climate Change, and I was furious that I got to inherit such a damaged world.

How could people stand by and watch the lives of their children be destroyed?

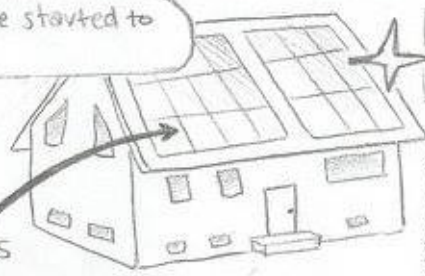

At least people are starting to believe it, but now it is a matter of TAKING ACTION

There is so much to be done.

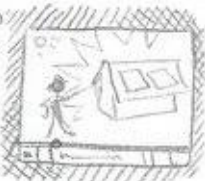

My family and I have started to do our part:

SOLAR PANELS

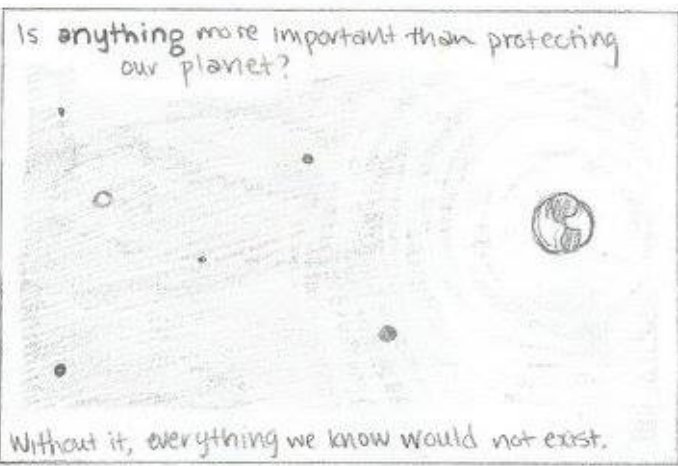

We created the first renovated net positive energy home in Massachusetts.

Now, we are spreading our knowledge to as many people as possible.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?
WHAT ARE YOU DOING?
WHAT ARE YOU DOING?
WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Is anything more important than protecting our planet?

Without it, everything we know would not exist.

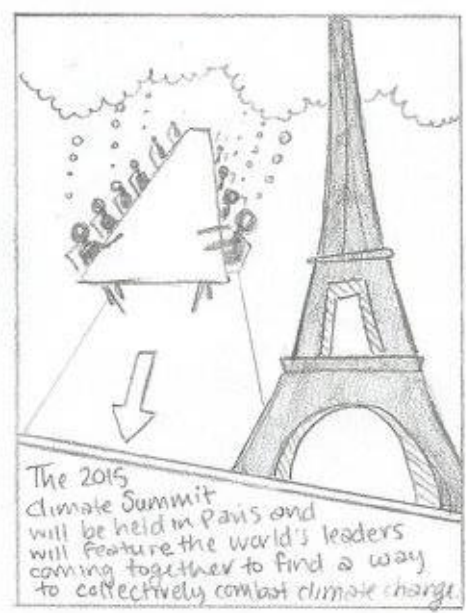

It is too easy to be passive because we are all so busy and so cushioned that we can ignore the warnings and consequences of our impact on the planet.

My family and I

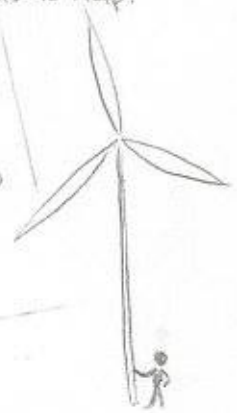

In New York City, September 21, 2014, over 400,000 people gathered to walk in the People's Climate March to show the world that we care and we are WILLING to CHANGE.

The 2015 Climate Summit will be held in Paris and will feature the world's leaders coming together to find a way to collectively combat climate change.

For us to effectively protect and heal our planet, every single person needs to help.

- Educate yourself!
- Find out what YOU can do to help (even the little things count)
- DO IT.
